

LEATHER SINCE 1933

Pure

With a name that embodies the true essence of this leather, Pure is completely natural and is marked by its beautiful, visual aesthetic and distinctive luxuriously, soft hand. After the crust stage of tanning, oil is applied to the leather in the drum to fully penetrate and absorb into the hide. It is then milled overnight to mellow and soften the fibers further, continuing to enhance surface feel. A final process lightly burnishes and polished the leather to offer a less-is-more approach that exudes simple elegance.
