

LEATHER SINCE 1933

Tuscany

Named for its home province, Tuscany was designed to mimic the earthy texture and grain of goatskin in full cowhides. Naturally shrunken to achieve a light, airy hand and slight grainy finish, this leather exudes an overall casual aesthetic. Color is spread across the hide in a marbled fashion, providing highs and lows reminiscent of natural shading across the surface. The surface's slight polish will also deepen and darken to a warm gloss in areas of contact.
